++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cloudy for many overnight. Sunny spells developing through Thursday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Dry this evening, with late sunny spells for many. Cloud arrives from the northeast overnight, bringing some patchy drizzle in places. Clear spells still possible across the south and west, mainly over Cornwall. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Thursday:
A cloudy start for all but Cornwall, but this cloud will gradually break to give widespread sunny spells during the afternoon. Dry throughout, but breezy along the south coast. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Dry on Friday, with sunny spells, especially in the south. Sunny spells again on Saturday, with a few showers possible. Turning unsettled into Sunday, with rain and stronger winds arriving.
